AbbVie's $70 Million Investment in Worcester

In September 2025, AbbVie started construction of a $70 million expansion at its AbbVie Bioresearch Center in Worcester, Mass. This investment will further expand AbbVie's domestic biologics manufacturing capacity to meet increased global demand and support U.S. production of current and next-generation oncology and immunology medicines. It will include construction of additional biologics manufacturing areas and a three-story building housing laboratory, warehouse and office space. Construction will enable the expedited transfer of select oncology products from Europe to the United States.
